

Jamberoo Anglican Privacy Policy

Abridged Version October 2026

Jamberoo Anglican Church is committed to protecting personal and sensitive information in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988 and the Australian Privacy Principles. Individuals retain ownership of their data, while the Church acts as its custodian.

Policy Owner

The Senior Minister is the Jamberoo Anglican Church Privacy Officer and is responsible for the Privacy Policy with support from the Parish Council. The Senior Minister may delegate the role of Privacy Officer to another person.

Collection & Use

Personal information is collected only when necessary for pastoral services, Parish administration, or legal compliance. This may include contact details, religious beliefs and government identifiers. Information is gathered directly or via authorised third parties, and sensitive data is only collected with consent.

Purpose

Data is used for service delivery, council and committee operations, communication, and maintaining records. Jamberoo Anglican may contact individuals for purposes that are required for the proper administration of the Parish, and we will only use personal information for the purposes of research or marketing if:

- you have provided your consent; or
- it is impracticable to seek consent, and you would reasonably expect us to communicate with you in such a way.

In such situations we will also provide you the ability to opt-out of communications. Jamberoo Anglican Church will generally not contact individuals for the purpose of promotion of external goods or external services.

Storage & Security

Information is securely stored using physical and IT safeguards, including cloud services (e.g., Microsoft, ChurchSuite). Providers are vetted for compliance and security standards.

Data Breaches

Any breach is addressed through a formal response plan, with affected individuals notified appropriately. All actions are documented and reviewed.

Access & Correction

Individuals can request access to or correction of their personal data. Reasonable steps are taken to ensure data accuracy, and updates are encouraged.

Other Practices

The Church uses social media for general communication, allows anonymous interactions where feasible, and collects basic data via its website. Web analytics are used to improve user experience without tracking identifiable information.
